How do we close the loop with Supervisor Jenkin's office?
What is the protocol for responding to a local representative?
Nadia, will you be in the office on Monday?
Rusty is probably not in today.
Nadia and I can call Bobbie back but would prefer to have someone else on the call with me.

Thanks John, I like your answer that we also consider the degree to which the State is already effectively working with the PRP and making progress.

Also, when we got the FOIA and subsequent public inquiries, I looked through all of the site assessment files and talked with them, but no information turned up to shed more light on the question.

I would suggest we should stick to the short answer that it's not on the NPL, so the State is the lead regulatory oversight agency.

When Saul Bloom of ARC Ecology pressed us in years past as to why we didn't list it (when I even think it was scoreable – he had requested the scoring package), I would think we would have replied that when we consider listing sites, we also consider the degree to which the State is already effectively working with the PRP and making progress. This was likely considered at the time, although I cannot be sure. If you want to explore this more, you should talk with Site Assessment and see what their database says about it.

That's my thoughts on this,

John

Hi Lily, we also just got some inquiry from a reporter about the NPL status of TI that I am working with Michele on, perhaps the answers I provided could also be forwarded to the City Supervisor?

With regards to the question you received as to why we don't have the same role, I think we need management input to respond to that, as it involves trying to describe both sites and compare the two.

The short answer is, TI is not on the NPL, and HP is. But I think the intent of the question is why TI is not on the NPL and HP is, and hence why we have the different role.

John/Angeles/Judy--I have not been able to come up with an answer to why one is NPL and the other is not, I don't have the history to know why the decision was made by management in the past. I don't feel comfortable discussing this topic with the City Supervisor due to my limited role at TI, and do not plan to respond to the inquiry from them, unless I hear directly from you what to tell them. Thanks.
